BYU Given Square Mile Of Oil Land

Title to a square (640 acres) of land in oil-rich Idaho will come in southeastern Utah was turned over to Brigham Young University Saturday.

THE GIFT to the University was made by Lewis H. Larsen, mining and refining executive and Republican candidate for governor of Utah, and Arthur M. and Harold E. Jensen, brothers, of Jensen Construction Co. of Salt Lake City. It was received for BYU by President Ernest L. Wilkinson.

The section (1 square mile) is near the important oil finds struck recently by Pure Oil Company.

LARSEN ALSO proposed establishment of a chair of petroleum engineering at BYU in the name of Henry D. Moyle, second counselor in the First Presidency of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and prominent oil industry authority.

He said, "I should like to see this chair sponsored by all of the oil people of our state through the cooperation of the Petroleum Institute of America, the Rocky Mountain Oil and Gas Association, and all the individuals and corporations that are interested."

ASSURED by President Wilkinson that such a chair would be welcomed, Larsen said, "I should like to help in forming a committee for the purpose of establishing this chair and obtaining the finances necessary for such a worthy cause."

Larsen, who is known as the "cowboy artist" because of his extensive painting of western scenes, is director and co-founder of Minerals Refining Company in Salt Lake City and executive vice president of Caribou Mining Company with uranium operations in Wyoming and Utah, oil in Wyoming and Colorado and mica in South Dakota.

Watts to Give Valedictory; Rex Lee, Boyce

Engineering Major Wins Senior Post

Paul Jene Watts, Jr. has been named valedictorian of the class of 1960, and Rex Lee and Glenna Cooper Boyce have been chosen recipients of the Chamber of Commerce Efficiency Award.

The announcements were made by Dean Wesley P. Lloyd, chairman of the Scholarship Committee.

WATTS, WHO completed requirements for graduation winter quarter, is an electrical engineer major and will be graduated with a 3.981 grade point average. He is now living in Beaverton, Ore.

Watts was president of the Electrical Engineering Society, display chairman for Engineering Week, business manager of Tro-nac (research and development organization) and recipient of a Danforth Foundation Fellowship.

DURING THE past year he has earned 21 credit hours, has been active in school activities, has spent 20 hours directing technicians installing new electronic equipment within the department and has supported a wife and four children.

A recipient of the Chamber of Commerce Efficiency Award, Glenna Cooper Boyce is president of Associated Women Students and has maintained a 3.793 grade point average.

A SOCIOLOGY major, Mrs. Boyce has been voted an outstanding woman of BYU and outstanding women student in the College of Humanities. Dr. Reed Bradford, dean of the college, called her a "skilled" research student in sociology.

She has been an officer in the Froth AWS Council, vice president of AWS, a member of White Key, Phi Kappa Phi and Lambda Delta Sigma and was named "Cougar of the Week." Mrs. Boyce includes in her church activities positions as president of a ward Relief Society, MIA teacher, Relief Society teacher and secretary to the bishop. She also organized a ward library.

ALSO NAMED A recipient of the Chamber of Commerce Efficiency Award is Rex Lee, student body president. He is an accounting major and has a grade point average of 3.968.

Lee has been Associated Men Students vice president, Senate president, freshman class president, a member of the debating team and of Blue Key. Y. D. chairman and winner of the H. E. J. Grant Oratorical Contest. Lee, who is from St. Johns, Ariz., is also a member of the member of the Brigham Young University Stake High Council.

Old, New Senators To Meet Tonight

There will be a senate meeting Monday at 7:15 p.m. in the seminary room of the Eyring Science Center. All new and old senators are expected to be in attendance. New senators are now subject to Senate rules. The student body is invited.

'Y Day' Planners Make Wednesday Preparation

There are hundreds of busy little hands painting signs, knocking on doors, writing songs, and many other activities in preparation for a successful Y Day, Wednesday.

The emphasis this year is on a larger participation of students in the Y Day activities, according to committee members. Attempts are being made to build enthusiasm in those students who have not participated in the events.

MANY NEW IDEAS are being tried to make the work more effective and the recreation more entertaining.

On Saturday members of Cani Los and Tau Sigs liked to the big letter to clean it up in preparation for its painting on Y Day.

"Gadlanton bands" are being "gathered" that will function as wake-up committees. They will assist in organizing group breakfasts for students at various dorms.

THE MANY organizations and ward members will have further motivation for being active in their projects this year. A trophy will be awarded to the group with the highest percentage participating during the work day. The size of organizations will be considered before the trophy is awarded.

There will possibly be a sound truck moving throughout the area playing cougar pep songs Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning, in an attempt to get students fired up.

AFTER the projects are completed Wednesday, student workers cap find food and entertainment at the stadium. Committee members promise many new games which will give everyone a chance to join in the fun.

The football game will be between the varsity and alumni. In other years the Blue-White team members were all varsity players.

HALF-TIME entertainment will feature flag twirlers, song leaders and cheerleaders. There is a possibility that faculty members will present an act at that time.

A song has been written dedicated to Y Day which will be heard around campus. It was reported there will also be records of school songs and music played during the week. This music, sung by the BYU Cappella choir, will be played between classes. It was reported.

W. Frank Haynes . . . to manage Universe business for 60-61.

Joel Justesen . . . reappointed business manager of Banyan.

Publications Group Announces Universe, Banyan Businessmen

W. Frank Haynes and Joel Justesen have been selected to be business managers of student publications for next year, the Student Publications Committee has announced.

Haynes was appointed by the last news manager of the Daily Universe. The new manager, a 20-year-old junior from Farmington, N.M., is majoring in journalism and minor in business management.

HAYNES will replace Stan Mathelson, who managed the Daily Universe in June. The job will be left "in very capable hands," Mathelson said.

This year's business manager of the Banyan, Justesen will head the department again next year. He is a 21-year-old junior from Lancaster, Calif.

JUSTESEN graduated from Long Beach Polytechnic High School and is now majoring in radio and television and minor in political science. He is assembly chairman for units and organizations on campus and program director for KBIG, the new BYU broadcasting system scheduled to go on the air in one week.

Watts, Jr. . . . named 1960 valedictorian

De Gaulle Gives Plans Summit

WASHINGTON, April 25 —

President Eisenhower and French President Charles de Gaulle conclude their pre-summit talks today in general terms on grand strategy for the summit's Paris meeting with Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

De Gaulle and De Gaulle, who launched after a top-secret meeting yesterday at Camp David that they were in accord on "we shall proceed at a summit," called in their formal meeting for the final business of the summit (at 8:30 a.m. MST) to French leader's four-day summit visit.

SECRETARY of State Christian A. Schmiter and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville were to get a full-in of the summit (at 12:30 p.m. MST) to French leader's four-day summit visit.

During his final White House conference, De Gaulle is expected to address a joint press conference (at 12:30 p.m. MST) to French leader's four-day summit visit.

De Gaulle and Mme. de Gaulle are expected to have a state dinner at the plush Elysee Palace tomorrow. Tomorrow the French president will leave for a ticker-tape parade on Broadway.

De Gaulle and De Gaulle are expected to have reached agreement on sweeping terms, on how to handle the Eisenhower-Macmillan should deal with the summit's big issues—disarmament and Berlin.

PEANUTS

Martyrdom of Prophet On Stage Tuesday Eve

David E. Perry, sophomore English major, will star as Joseph Smith in the presentation of "No Greater Love" on Tuesday.

The half-hour long play, which depicts the last days in the personal life of the Prophet, will be presented in the Smith Auditorium with lighting and sound effects at 7:30 p.m. It is free, and no tickets are needed for admission.

A JOINT EFFORT of the Eleventh Ward MIA and the Mask Club, the play brings to light personal feelings of Smith and his friends as well as historical incidents occurring at the time of the martyrdom.

Besides Perry, who said his portraying Smith is "a great opportunity as well as one of the greatest challenges" he has had, the cast includes more than 30 players, according to writer-director Jay Lovins.

Some of the cast are Gary Stringham as John Taylor, Robert Nielson as Hyrum Smith, Phil Harris as Dr. Richards, Don Clements as Governor Thomas Ford, Gary Wood as General Deming and Merrill Carter as William Law. Lee Wright will handle lighting effects, and Allan Brassard will direct audio effects.

Six Zoology Students Receive Fellowships, Assistantships

Six Brigham Young University zoology students have received fellowships and teaching assistantships in some major universities in the United States.

ROBERT C. STONES, a graduate student from Milwaukee, Ore., received a $2500 teaching assistantship plus tuition payment at Purdue University.

John Bowman, a junior from Rockford, Ill., won a $2500 National Science Foundation fellowship plus tuition payment at Colorado State University.

ROBERT MATEWES, a graduate student from Provo, received a $4700 fellowship from the National Institute of Health.

Dennis Trent, also a Provo graduate student, won a teaching and research assistantship at the University of Oklahoma. It is for $2500.

GERALD B. ROBINSON, a graduate student from Gunnison, was the recipient of a teaching assistantship at the University of California. It was for $2005 plus tuition payment.

Steven C. Bromley, a senior from Downey, Calif., was given a fellowship by the National Institute of Health for Princeton University. It pays $1600 plus $1200 tuition.

Springtime as Prom, fashions

by N. J. O'Neill
Universe Writer

Springtime is Prom-time and Brigham Young University Fashion will find shackled to the wheels of propriety. It is, without doubt, a rest for the poor who finds herself run ragged these days.

much needed relaxation as a courtesy of the BYU Standards Code which "At dances keep dresses neat. No strapless dresses or ties with narrow straps shall wear. The shoulders must be covered and the neckline (front neck) modest."

I CAN well appreciate the fact that Madam Fashion enforces these days by looking at the social dance as a whole. The socialites of the man has stretched attire until today's evening attire of a female approaches the bare, bottomless, backless, and bare.

course we wouldn't want dress to the adams apple line that was supported by a line that spent most of its under the squires' polished shoes.

even this is better than confusion that results from a paradox so often viewed at the social where the onlooker is at a loss to know if the young lady is in the line fragment trying to get out or outside trying to get in.

AS BEEN said that this unfortunate condition results from one sucks herself into a line that is not the size of the body but rather, the size one like the body to be. At the same time the compression of the body should be left to the student who has much more than equipment than a sheath dress with which to do the job.

Madam Fashion's big problem at the dance roots itself in the modern distortion of the dance's function. The moral purpose of the dance is to enjoy one another's company through the physical skill of interpreting musical rhythm.

THIS CAKE is covered with the frosting of conversation, it being a natural by-product. The dance is not as one might be led to believe, a showplace for the exhibition of physical endowment.

And when the latter obscures the former, then the entire purpose of the event changes and the resulting experiences will differ correspondingly.

FOR THIS reason, and as a service to Madam Fashion, this year's Prom Committee desires that all concerned be aware of the enforcement clause in the Dress Standards Code. "At dances patrons will ask girls in immodest dress to leave. The student standards committee will also enforce these standards."

It is the committee's request that spaghetti straps, bench stools, transparent netless netting and the like be avoided. They likewise warn against necklines (front and back) that provide dance partners with a view of the hardwood flooring, overexposure of scapuloacervular epidermis and dresses that are losing the battle of the bulge.

On a positive note proper formal and dressy-dresses are welcomed.

PromHead Says Sales Are Brisk

by Carrie Corless

"Judging from the brisk ticket sales, this year's Junior Prom should prove a tremendous success," reports Gary K. Stewart, general chairman.

Tickets, which cost $4, are going fast. Stewart says tickets will continue on sale until all are purchased. Prom tickets may be purchased in the Smith Family Living Center and Cannon Center according to intermission times.

Dancing will start at 9 p.m. April 29 and at 8:30 p.m. April 30. Dorm hours have been extended for this traditional, formal dance.

Jerry Gray and his "Band of Today" will furnish the music for dancing. The Limelights will provide the entertainment for the Prom participants.

This year the Prom, "Green Mansions," will feature two "firsts" in the history of BYU Junior Proms. For the first time, the Junior class will be paying all the bills with no studentbody funds utilized. Another "first" is that of a false ceiling as part of the Prom decorations.

This studentbody dance has been allotted a budget of $6000 to which $650 is being applied toward decorations. Big murals and other devices will aid Stuart Bay, decorations chairman, in carrying out the tropical theme of an exotic, paradisaical island in the east gym of the fieldhouse.

Refreshments under the direction of Carol Hoppe will also carry out the theme of "Green Mansions," which is based on the book, "Green Mansions."

Forms Ready For Council

Applications are now available in the Associated Women Students office for the City Coeds Council.

All coeds living off-campus are eligible to be a member of this council, if they have a grade point average of 2.5 or above. The purpose of the council is to disseminate information to off-campus coeds, to uphold University standards, to make possible planned social activities and to make off-campus coeds feel a part of the University.

THE COUNCIL, is composed of 12 area leaders and these leaders represent approximately 100 coeds each. The City Coeds Council might be compared to the Inter-Dorm Council and the Heritage Halls Council with respect to duties and purpose.

The officers for this year's council are Kathleen Clair, president; Kay Westover, vice president; Diane Love secretary. The officers will serve again next year with the exception of Miss Love who is graduating.

Dean Yarn Made Honorary Blue Key by Men's Society

In David H. Yarn, first dean of the College of Religious Instruction, has been selected as the year's honorary Blue Key. He is the principal speaker at the recent Blue Key Honors Banquet. Blue Key is a national honorary fraternity for men.

Three Blue Keys received the outstanding senior awards at the banquet. Terry L. Crape, was given the academic award. He has maintained a 3.926 grade point average and is serving in the 11th Ward Bishopric.

He is also executive assistant to the studentbody president.

Dallas Merrill received the religious award. He is a member of the Sixth Ward Bishopric and he is past president of Blue Key. He is presently holding the position of Student Coordinator.

The service and leadership award was given to Howard E. "Ted" Sandberg. He is a member of the BYU Stake Sunday School superintendency and he is the current Blue Key president. His grade point average is 3.914.

CRISIS IN COLLEGE

"The university in America is not a community of scholars, but an enormous service station... where one can be born, go to kindergarten, lower school, high school, meet the girl friend and get married."

"If students were limited to those who were interested in learning to think for themselves... approximately fifty per cent of our college and university students would disappear." You can't afford to miss the shocking report from which these statements are taken. It is written by a famous educator in the new issue of McCall's. It may be the most important—and damning—article ever published on the subject, and every student concerned with his future will want to read it. May McCall's, on sale now.

Costa, Griffith, Walton Record Y Track Marks Despite Mud

The 47th Annual Invitational Track and Field Meet saw an assault on special event marks by the host Cougar thirdlands, despite inclement weather.

TOPPING THE DAY'S achievements was the meet and school record of 6-11 1/2, registered by junior Ed Costa in the high jump. The mark topped the previous mark of Bill Stewart set in 1941.

Griffith, who is gunning for a berth on this year's Olympic squad, ran away from the pack in the 3,000 meter steeplechase in 9:37.1. The mark was a record because the event had never been run before in the Meet.

IN A THIRD special event BYU 440-runner Bill Walton defeated former Cat hurdler Dave Parker in the Olympic distance 400-meter hurdles. This was also the first time this race had been attempted in the Invitational.

Griffith actually got more competition from his teammates Terry Jeffers and Bill Green. Hugh, Jeffers, a frosh, started with the defending skyline mile and two-mile champ for nearly half the grueling race.

Dave Cunningham, Davis High School, took the All-Around Championship. The young athlete captured four first places and amassed 5,898 points in the grueling 10-event test.

Weber won the Class A team championship, while Josh captured the Class B honors. College of Southern Utah and Mesa Junior College shared the JC honors.

For the day with four gold medals each.

Two new records were set by the Class A preps. Louis Andrus of Granite cleared 6-3 1/2 in the high jump to smash John Haynes (Grand Junction) record of 6-2 3/4.

THE OTHER record also came in the field events when Steve Arch of Reno put the 12-pound shot 37 feet 2 1/2 inches for a new record. The old record was held by Steve Sullivan, Davis, Nev., at 34.2. Sullivan is currently a member of the Cougar football squad.

Another highlight of the meet was the Class A mile that found Griffith's brother Lorenzo winning for the second year in a row. Running for Preston, Ida., Lorenzo clocked a 4:41.5 for the four muddy laps. Griffith's even younger brother Bill took third in the same event. Bill is only a freshman in high school.

For the second year in a row Coach Buck Dixon was forced to reschedule his tennis matches. The Class A and B matches will be rescheduled when the weather clears and the junior college pairings will be played in two weeks, according to the net mentor.

ED COSTA CLEARS the 6-11 1/2 mark for a new Invitational and school mark in the high jump. The mark was a new high for the San Francisco junior thirdland. Gary Griffith, Bill Walton also won special event encounters.

Coaches Set Summer Junior Clinics

Fifteen daily classes under Brigham Young University's famed basketball and track coaches are available this summer for boys between the ages of eight and fourteen.

COACH Stan Watts and Clarence Robinson will teach the clinics for a three-week period from June 8 to 24. Each class group will receive one hour of instruction daily. The class times will be arranged after the coaches receive all registration applications. All registrants will be notified of their schedules.

Registration may be made through BYU Adult Education and Extension Services, co-sponsors with the Physical Education Department for this "Athletic Clinic for Boys." Deadline is May 27.
